Selected Aspects of Wholeness

Scripture states that we are complete in Christ, (Colossians 2:9 & 10). Give up unrealistic expectations for other people, places and things to meet needs that only God can. Rely on God alone for the healing and fulfillment you seek.

For the next 21 days of consecration (January 2 - 22), we will journey toward wholeness in eight aspects of our identity. The Scriptures that undergird our study come from Psalm 119, where the focus is on abiding in the Word and the Word abiding in the believer.

- I. Spiritual: As we pursue our journey toward wholeness, we should learn that to die more to self, we are able to live more completely in Christ. We rejoice in the fact that we have already attained the victory over sin, Satan and death, and we seek further to grow our communion with our Lord.
- II. Psychological: Be honest with God and yourself about your state of mind. Reconciling your own aspirations with the purpose that God has for you in His Kingdom is key to finding out how to live your life in a manner that pleases God, no matter what other people think.
- III. Emotional: Acknowledge and accept all your feelings, including the ones wish you didn't have. Understand that you can learn from your emotions. Pay attention to your painful feelings to discern what they're telling you and how you can respond wisely. Ask God to help you use your emotions to help you grow into the next stage of wholeness.
- IV. Physical: Accept responsibility to care for your body by not abusing it and giving God continual thanks for its functionality. Understand that we are stewards of God's gift to us - temples for the Holy Spirit that are worthy of respect.

- V. Relational: Allow God to work through you to establish healthy relationships. Think and pray about who you are as a person, and once you're confident that you know yourself well, pray for the courage to share who you are with others. Learn to view other people's talents as gifts to appreciate.
- VI. Financial: God is our provider and He will provide for us just as He does so bountifully for the birds of the air and the beasts of the field. Grow in the awareness that God will supply all that you need, even if you do not have all that you want. God's grace is sufficient for us.
- VII. Self-Esteem: Recognize that you have incredible worth because you're one of God's children, made in His image. Know that despite whatever critical comments you've heard about yourself from other people (parents, siblings, teachers, bosses, etc.), God loves you deeply and unconditionally.
- VIII. Service/Ministry: As we grow into wholeness, we become committed to kingdom priorities. We make ourselves available for service by identifying our spiritual gifts and accepting assignments in our gifted areas as members of the body of Christ. As Christ's workmanship, we long to discover the impact we can have as His ambassadors.
